

On Feelings

We all leave childhood with wounds. In time we can transform our liabilities into gifts.
The injuries we have suffered invite us to assume the most human of all vocations – to heal ourselves and others.--Sam Keen